

"COMET DROP" IS NEW THRILLER

"Reckless Beach," Who Will be Here
Next Week, Has Some Fancy
Movement to Execute.

TO APPEAR AT HORSE SHOW

His Style of Aeroplane is Said to be Fastest as Well as Most Pliable One Made.

Most everybody hereabouts is familiar with Fire-work displays, aeroplane flights, and the other amusement accompaniments of fairs and celebrations. And while these features will all be seen at Rushville, H. B. Marks, general director of the Horse Show and Fall Festival, here the week of Oct. 25-30, however, says that every entertainment feature engaged where novelty or innovation do not predominate, superior accomplishment will take its place. In other words, every act, deed or feat performed will be of the best, by the best.

"Reckless Beach," the famous "birdman," who by the way is under the personal direction of Mr. Marks, will give exhibitions of high, and fancy, low flying twice daily in his high power tractor "Mercury," patterned after the improved French "Planes," now in use by that nation for scout duty.

This style of aeroplane is said to be the fastest flying machine known as well as the most pliable on account of the rapidity with which it answers the helm. The turns and plunges are made with a speed and facility rarely acquired by aircraft.

Mr. Beach is credited with drawing the largest crowds ever seen at aeroplane exhibitions in this country, since the passing of "Beachey," his closest competitor, and only rival. In addition to high and low flying Mr. Beach will execute the "Dip of Death," Loop-the-Loop, "The Spiral Glide," and the "Comet Drop," dropping like a streak of lightning from a height of fifteen hundred feet with the nose of his machine pointed downward and when about one hundred and fifty feet from the ground he rights his aircraft and sweeps to the ground.

THOUGHT THE CLOCK HAD GONE "CRAZY"

Persons on Street Sunday Were Astonished When Hands Ran
Each Other Around Dial

IT WAS GIVEN GOOD CLEANING

For the first time in eighteen years the court house clock was given a complete cleaning yesterday, Custodian Dickman and Jesse Poe doing the work. Many people who depend on the clock for their time probably became confused as it was necessary to stop the clock shortly before noon and make some adjustments. As a result the clock did not strike at twelve o'clock and was out of the running until two o'clock.

Persons on the down town streets thought the clock was "crazy" as the hand whirled around dial. The clock works were taken apart and given a complete cleaning. Last winter the clock lost time during cold weather and it was believed this was caused because the clock needed cleaning.

ADMITS GUILT BUT ACCUSES HIS PAL

Bert Newman is Taken Into Court
But is Sent Back to Jail When he Refuses to Plead.

CRAIG BOY NOT YET FOUND

Bert Newman admits that he broke into the Dr. Will Smith garage, but says Warnie Craig is equally as guilty. For this reason Newman would not plead guilty in circuit court Saturday afternoon and as a result was sent back to jail to await trial. His bond was placed at $1,000.

When asked by Judge Sparks if he was guilty as charged in the affidavit, Newman replied that Craig was equally as guilty and apparently did not want to go to prison without Craig. The Craig boy was not yet been found. Judge Sparks could get no satisfactory plea from the Newman boy so sent him back to jail.

Newman is charged with burglary in the second degree, which upon conviction means a sentence of from two to fourteen years at the Jeffersonville reformatory.

JUDGE GOES TO RICHMOND TODAY

Will Sit as Special Judge After Closing up Busiest Day in Local Court in Years

THREE DIVORCES GRANTED

Besides Jury Trial, Hears Mechanics
Lien And Partition Suit on Saturday

Judge Sparks put in one of the busiest days in recent years in the circuit court Saturday. Besides a jury trial, Judge Sparks granted three divorces; heard a suit to foreclose a mechanics lien; a partition suit and attended to probate business and several minor matters in civil suits.

Divorces were granted to Mrs. Lavanche Coyne from Thomas Coyne; Mrs. Jennie Bigham from Charles Bigham and Alonzo W. Sleeth from Belva Sleeth. Mrs. Coyne was given her maiden name of Lavanche Innis. All of the divorces were to be entered upon payment of the costs.

The court took the case of Pinnell-Tompkins Lumber company against Arsula M. Curry and Albert Curry under advisement. The suit is to foreclose a mechanics lien, in which $600 is demanded.

Judge Sparks went to Richmond today where he will act as special judge. As a result there was no court here. Several local attorneys were in Newcastle on the case of Walker against Irvin which started this morning.

CHANGES MIND ABOUT HIS PLEA

John Wainscott, Blind "Bootlegger," is Sentenced to 60 Days in Jail and Fined $50.

PROMISES TO LEAVE CITY

John Wainscott, the blind "bootlegger," arrested last week after he had just arrived from Connorsville with a supply of booze, suddenly changed his mind about being guilty, and late Saturday night was taken before Mayor Bebout where he changed his plea. Wainscott received a fine of $50 to which was added sixty days in jail. The fact that he is blind will save him from the sentence.

Upon the promise of Wainscott and his brother that he would leave the city Mayor Bebout decided to suspend the sentence. The mayor believes that the city will be better off without "Blind John" and quickly made his arrangements. Wainscott's brother is the Holy Roller preacher here and as that church has a conference about Oct. 25 he expects to get a different assignment. The preacher promised to take the blind man with him and he will be permitted to stay here until then.

The choir of the First Presbyterian church will meet for rehearsal on Tuesday evening at seven o'clock.

MASONIC WORK.

Phoenix lodge, No. 62, F. & A. M. will have work in the M. M. degree Tuesday evening beginning at 7:30. A large attendance is requested.

SPRING SHOWERS FALLING

Cracker Barrel Philosopher Revise
Predictions and Declare Winter
Will be Delayed.

With summer temperature prevalent, something akin to spring showers falling at intervals and violets in bloom, visions of delayed summer vacations were the rule.

The "cracker barrel weather philosophers" have been saying that all signs point to an extremely cold winter, but today they were revising their predictions and sending out new bulletins to the effect that it would be a very late winter.

The latest forecasts are based on the fact that "fishing worms are being found very close to the surface of the earth." They say this is a sure sign that winter will be slow in arriving, but it is not criterion that the winter will be moderate.

Persons who were out in quest of hickory nuts and walnuts yesterday report that they saw many bunches of violets peeping up from under clusters of leaves that had been bitten by the heavy frosts of week before last and had fallen to the ground.

Yesterday offered a great variety. Those who went out nutting found spring flowers instead, and then before they reached home in the evening they narrowly escaped drenching in a "spring shower."

The showers fell at intervals during the night and there was a vivid display of lightning and loud claps of thunder. The rain continued throughout today, but the weather prediction for tomorrow is fair.

The temperature today was in striking contrast with that of ten days ago when householders began to lay in their winter supply of coal locate the baseburners in the house and start the furnace. The frost had its effect, however, as is revealed by the falling leaves and the trees that are displaying the beautiful hues of the autumnal season.

MILROY MAN HELD ON BOND OF $1,000

Orville Utsler Charged With Admin-
istering Drug to Florence
McElfresh by Her Husband.

FELONIOUS PURPOSE ALLEGED

Orville Utsler, living near Milroy, was arrested today by Deputy Sheriff Sullivan on a serious charge preferred by Harry E. Dawson of near Glenwood. Utsler is held in jail, being unable to give bond in the sum of $1,000.

The affidavit charges that Utsler feloniously administered a certain drug to Florence McElfresh, a girl fourteen years old, for a criminal purpose. The name of the drug, according to the affidavit, is not known. The McElfresh girl, since the offense is alleged to have been committed, has married Dawson and they are now living together. He filed the affidavit as the husband of the girl. It is understood that she is only fifteen years old at the present time.

Unless Utsler gets bond he will have to be held in jail until Judge Sparks returns from Richmond.

Impending Crisis in British Cabinet is Foreseen.

London, Oct. 18.—Sir Edward Carson was absent from the cabinet sessions today. The belief that he had resigned gained strength. Many rumors were current of a stirring cabinet crisis impending. The Balkan outlook was blamed mainly for the trouble.

WALKER DISMISSES THE SECOND SUIT

Case Against Rushville Glove Co.
And A. B. Irvin Was to be
Tried in Newcastle Today

SIMILAR TO EARLIER ONE

A message from Newcastle today stated that the case of A. P. Walker against A. B. Irvin and the Rushville Glove company, which was sent to Henry county on a change of venue, had been dismissed today and the costs taxed against the plaintiff. Walker did not appear at all today.

It was a complaint for conversion. It was said at the court house today that the suit was one in which Walker alleged that he had paid money for stock in the glove company but that the stock had never been issued. It was filed here June, 12, 1915 and a change of venue promptly taken.

The records of the allegations of the suit are not on file here because the case was sent from the county, but it was recalled that the suit was very similar to one filed by Walker against the same defendants August 28, 1914, in which $3,000 damages were demanded. The witnesses were summoned for that case and it was all ready for trial when Walker dismissed it. The costs were taxed against him in that instance.

CUNNING THIEVES STEAL WAR STAMPS

Break Into Internal Revenue Col-
lector's Office in Evansville
Sunday Night

MONEY SAFE IS LEFT ALONE

(By United Press.)
Evansville, Ind., Oct. 18.—Cunning burglars stole emergency "war stamps" worth $15,000 from the safe in the office of Deputy Foley, collector of internal revenues, in the federal building last night. The robbery was the first of its kind ever reported here.

A wide cut in the sheet around the combination and a jimmy, a brace nippers and drills left lying on the desk told the story of how the safe was robbed. The steel money safe was not tampered with. The thieves did not take ordinary cigar and beer revenue stamps. They apparently knew the government keeps a record of sale of these stamps and they could not dispose of them. No record is kept on the sale of "war stamps." The thieves took a string off the bundle of ordinary stamps to tie up their bundle but did not break the seal.

Carrying this bulky bundle it was necessary to pass through the lighted downtown streets.

MIND BLANK ON MURDER DETAILS

Porter Charlton Testifies Today in
His Trial For Killing His Wife
in Como, Italy.

CRIME OF 1909 IS RECALLED

Describes Her Furious Jealousy,
Violent Fits of Anger and Frequent Carousals.

(By United Press.)
Como, Italy, Oct. 18.—Trembling and at the point of collapse, Porter Charlton today told the court in his trial for wife murder how he met and married his victim, of their life together and of the events which led up to the killing in the honeymoon villa on Lake Como. The young American told of his discovery that he had slain the woman during an interval when his mind was a blank, of the manner in which he sank the body in Lake Como and finally of his flight.

The woman, Mary Scott Castle, already divorced and considerably older than himself, was married to him in 1909. His love for her, he said, was so intense that it filled his entire life.

Of her furious jealousy and violent fits of anger against him, he spoke at length. He attributed these exhibitions of rage which finally, he said, temporarily unseated his reason to the constant intensity of his wife's passion.

Next he described their trip to Italy together, his wife's alcoholic intemperance, her persistent carousing and her savage abuse of himself.

"She covered me with insults," he told the court. "She swore like a woman of the street. I could not help but think that another man awaited her. Something broke in my brain. Stooping, I seized a wooden mallet. What happened next I do not remember."

SMALL COLLECTION.

A total of $4,000 was collected at the county treasurer's office Saturday. The amount was considered very small for this near the time limit for paying the fall installment of taxes. The taxes this year are coming in exceedingly slow and starting today an average of $14,000 a day must be collected if all of the fall installment is paid by November 1.

The case of Thompson F. Thomas against Lafayette Conwell, for money had received, demanding $280, has been received in the local circuit court on a change of venue from Fayette county.

Tailored Suits

This is the month when milady will give much thought to the question of choosing a "tailored suit."

And more than ever will she be interested in the advertising in the Daily Republican.

That advertising becomes to her very important news.

It tells her about colors and cloths and styles—tells her whether skirts are to be wide or narrow—and above all else gives her an idea of prices and values.

When she comes to make her important purchase, the woman who has read the advertising will do better than her sister who did not post herself.

Amusements

The Gem will give a benefit show for the Red Men Athletic club tonight. The first picture on the program is a two reel comedy "Mr. Flirt in Wrong." Harry Gribbon is featured. The other picture is a comedy entitled "His Lucky Vacation." Tomorrow night the fourth episode of "The Broken Coin" will be shown. An explosion of fire damp and a mine horror, staged in the Colorado mining country by miners who had experienced such a catastrophe in real life, is featured in "The Scarlet Sin" a five reel feature at the Gem Wednesday.

The Princess will show the five reel feature "The Mating" for the program tonight. Bessie Barriscale and Lewis J. Cody are featured. This intensely human play pictures the adventures of Doris Willard, a little country girl, at a select boarding school where she is snubbed because of her dowdy clothes and old-fashioned manners. Happening to see, in a newspaper, a picture of Bullet Dick Ames, the football star, she conceives the plan of writing a letter to herself, signed by Ames, asking her to be his wife. How the plan of the school girls to expose her innocent deception and further humiliate her, was foiled by Dick, is the climax in the strong comedy-drama of college life. A college football game is said to be one of the best scenes in the picture.

A Comparison

Two brothers near the same age once lived in a small country town. The elder of the two was a fascinating, handsome, dashing young fellow popular with the girls and a "hail fellow well met" with the boys. He was regarded as a "rising young man."

The other brother was quiet, diffident, a hard worker, more tolerated than cultivated in social affairs, and with apparently but one thought uppermost in his mind—that of doing his work well and to the satisfaction of his employer.

To-day these brothers are both in a great city. The younger is at the head of an immense manufacturing corporation employing many hundreds of people, while the "dashing and fascinating" brother is but a clerk in his employ, on the payroll because he is his brother's brother.

Is there food for thought in the life work and purposes of these brothers?

We have many young men growing to manhood in this community, and to them the future is in their hands.

Opportunities will be plentiful, but only those who enter upon the careers of life with a will and a determination will rise to the more important spheres of usefulness in the business or professional world.

Medical Licensing

The responsibility for the licensing of medical practitioners has been left by the national government to the individual states; it is left to the state to establish the only legal barrier possible between the public and the thousands who seek authority to treat human diseases. Some states have provided an efficient guaranty that practitioners given the state's endorsement have secured the essential educational qualifications. In some states, however, the responsibility has been taken up in such a happy-go-lucky manner, and the legislation provided is so contrary to effective legal procedure, that the situation would be laughable, were it not for the serious menace to the public. In some states, laws have been passed, admirable in their composition and excellent in their purpose, only to be invalidated by clauses or by other laws exempting the very persons to whom the law should apply. Invariably, the exemptions are of those unable to comply with the educational requirements of the practice act and against whom the people most need protection—those who have had little or no medical training. The making of such exemptions, either by special clauses in the practice act or by laws providing special boards and lower educational standards, is clearly perverting medical licensure, so that instead of protecting the public against the incompetent, it is providing special privileges for the incompetent, untrained men and women parading as the apostles of some "new and marvelous" form of healing. Legislators have yet to learn says The Journal of the American Medical Association, that the art of healing is not gained by birth or by inspiration, but by a rigid and prolonged course of training in the fundamentals of medicine. The only way to make medical licensure a real protection of the public is to provide one licensing board in each state with ample power to apply one educational standard alike to all practitioners of the healing art.

"As Dead as a Mackerel"

Friends of President Wilson make him appear ridiculous in the eyes of those favoring a protective tariff for the American industries as well as the American laboring man by asserting that the president will stand or fall in the next campaign by his national defense program and that the tariff question will be "as dead as a mackerel." It is presuming a great deal to say that the tariff question will not be a live issue the next campaign when the Democratic administration had made such a signal failure in its finances. The deficit has even become so harrowing to the treasury department that no daily financial statement is given out any more.

It is stated in Washington dispatches that the president will make any concessions deemed "necessary" in a readjustment of the tariff. In other words, the president and his advisors have seen the handwriting before it is too late and propose to increase the tariff with the hopes of staying off almost certain defeat for the party that has made such a mass of running the United States government.

If the next Democratic congress does readjust the tariff so as to make sufficient revenue to operate the government without bond issues and "war taxes," then it will be an admission that the Democratic theory of free trade is wrong. That being the case, the Democratic party may as well give up the ship and let at the helm an administration which believes in a policy that has made the United States what it is; a policy that is the only one which will continue the United States in its high position.

H. G. Selfridge, erstwhile American citizen and now a London merchant, urges the United States to "get into the war and help the allies." And the Teutons would like us to "get into the war and help them." And not one of them would stretch a finger to help us when our time comes—not even Selfridge, erstwhile American citizen!

A writer once said that the best way to remember a thing is to write it on a piece of paper, roll up into a ball, and put it in your pocket with your loose change. It will do the rest.

Another New York preacher, a very estimable gentleman, has gone upon the rocks of commercial speculation. Stick to the saving of souls, brothers; it is less hazardous and more productive of lasting results to the human race.

America is asked to prevent the slaying of Armenians in Turkey. And we don't even prevent the slaughter of our own citizens on the Mexican border!

If we made munitions of war as fast as we make automobiles we soon would be able to lick the whole world. But we don't!

The man who does his work well never fears the presence of the boss. It is only the idler who exists in a state of dread.

If you think taxes in this country are high just think of the poor devils in Europe for the next generation to come.

Current Comments

Half Century to Build up.

(Omaha Bee.)

For half a century the Republican party devoted its efforts to the upbuilding of American industry, that the home market might be supplied by home-made goods, and this object was attained. Under the democratic administration the effort has been made to open home market to the foreign manufacturer. No other nation in all the world presents a market to compare to that of the United States. In round numbers, the consumptive demand of our own people amounts to the stupendous figure of thirty-eight billions of dollars annually. It costs us $120,000,000 a day to live on the American standard. The export business of the United States for the last fiscal year was but $2,700,000,000, or less than one-twelfth the sum of the home trade. Of the imports that entered United States ports in July, 1915, 69.4 per cent came in duty free.

Do we want to jeopardize our home market to create a commerce with foreign nations? Is not the Republican policy of protection for home workmen to be preferred to the Democratic policy of free trade, that will first of all reduce wages because it will reduce the ability of the employer to pay wages?

The Texas question and the acquisition of the vast Western territory growing out of the war with Mexico made the question of slavery extension a direct political issue. When both the Whig and Democratic parties refused to indorse the Wil-mot proviso, making the new territories free, the "Conscience" Whigs and some free Democrats united in 1848 to form the national Free Soil Party. In Indiana the Free Soilers who had been active as the Liberty Party organized and held state conventions from 1848 until its absorption by the Republican party. They did not attain any great strength in Indiana from the fact that so many advocates of free territory persisted in remaining in the Whig party.

SPENDS LARGE SUM FOR GOLF

Conservative Estimate is $120,000 That Indianapolis Dishes Out Annually For This Game

BECOMING VERY POPULAR

Some Predict That it Will Take

Place of Baseball as National Game Some Figures

By DAN L. BEEBE
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 18.—Indianapolis spends approximately $120,000 a year on golf and that figure is conservative.

Nearly one million dollars worth of real estate in and about Indianapolis is devoted to golf. A conservative estimate placed it at $989,000.

The city of Indianapolis, as a corporation, has approximately $909,000 in golf. It sounds annual ly, including interest on real estate at 6 per cent, about $63,423 that its golfers may whack the gutta percha ball on public courses. The golfers returned to the city in 1914 $3,481.75 in dues and locker fees.

The season about to close has been the most enthusiastic ever experienced by Indianapolis, and there are many in this city—as elsewhere, who predict that golf will supplant baseball as the national game. In that event, Indianapolis is prepared for the future, and will be able to accommodate its golfers for years to come with its present golf facilities somewhat amplified.

At present about 1,370 men and women play more or less regularly in Indianapolis. Of these about 870 play on the three city courses. The best figures obtainable show that the city of Indianapolis pays out about $72 annually for each of the golfers playing on the city courses.

In fairness to the management of the three city golf courses it must be explained here that this average per player would be considerably reduced if the interest on the land composing the Highland course to that club at a low figure, but since the Highland players are not playing on a public course, the 200 players there can not be added in to reduce the cost per player. The rent paid by Highland is subtracted however, from the total interest paid by the city on real estate for golf purposes.

All figures appearing in the article and those used as a basis for estimates have been passed on by a golfer whose position as a club official insures his ability to judge them properly. Estimates on real estate were obtained from real estate dealers, and then to insure conservatism, thousands of dollars were lopped off.

In this connection it is interesting to recall that certain Indianapolis writers have repeatedly protested that all city courses should be absolutely free to the public. Their idea was that if a course is owned by the city it should be open to the rich and poor alike. They say that the $8 fee at Riverside and the $5 fee at Irvington work an injustice on certain poorer people who might play golf if the fees were not there.

Those taking the other side of the argument reply that if the city is paying in the neighborhood of $70 annually for each man who plays golf, it is only fair that these individuals should repay a fee in order that the total cost shall not be paid by tax payers who will never do more than look at a golf course.

Without taking sides, it is proper to call attention to the approximate figures: Indianapolis spends annually $63,423 for about 870 players. They return $3,481. The rest is paid by the park board from funds raised through general taxation. Of the $3,481, only about $2,300 results from the much discussed dues. Or, in the other figures the city pays out about $70 per golfer and the golfer returns $8 if he plays at Riverside and $5 if he plays at Irvington.

The individual golfer in Indianapolis spends a goodly sum during a season for golf transportation to be had, to say nothing of clothing and aside from his dues probably were $50 a year and this would be a conservative average for all golfers, he said.

One professional on a local course said his average monthly sale on balls for seven months probably amounted to $500 and that golfers on his course probably spent in a season $2,500 for clubs, caddies and etc.

Figures cannot deal with such intangible things as health and joy resulting from golf, nor with the fact that Indianapolis probably received valuable advertising from its golf courses. It is often said that in the Riverside 18-hole course, Indianapolis has one that cannot be duplicated among public courses in this section of the country.

GREENFIELD WINS FROM RUSHVILLE

Locals Considered Lucky to Hold Them to 20 to 0 Score—Shows Flashy Team Work.

SUCCESSFUL WITH PASSES

Greenfield team defeated Rushville yesterday 20 to 0 in a hotly contested game, that was considerably closer than the score indicates. The Greenfield team put up a scrappy game and showed the result of several weeks' training. The Rushville team was considered lucky to hold them as well as they did.

The visitors found the Rushville line rather easy and when gains failed through the line they worked a forward pass to good advantage. Two of their three touchdowns were the result of forward passes. Greenfield scored three touchdowns and one safety, but failed to kick goal on any of the touchdowns. The Rushville team was strengthened by the addition of Smith, Harding and VanArsdal of Shelbyville. The score by quarters follows:

Greenfield 6-0-8-6—20

TODAY'S HOOSIER ODDITY

Greencastle, Ind., Oct. 18.—Prof. Haywood led his surveying squad of six out back of the De Pauw campus, and the first thing they know they ran into three men enjoying a beautiful "stew." With a fresh quart of whiskey in hand one of the men offered to treat the crowd from the "prof" down, but all refused.

"You're the first bunch of surveyors I ever saw refuse a drink," said one man.

WILL GET LINE ON ROSE POLY

(By United Press.)

Greencastle, Ind., Oct. 18.—De Pauw's scrub team was expected to get a chance to show itself in the game here this afternoon between the Methodists and the Eastern Illinois Normal. Coach Young did not fear the Teachers in view of the 20 to 0 defeat handed them by Rose Poly, was expected to save his regulars for the harder game with St. Louis university next Saturday. However, Young was fortified for any surprise that the Illinois team might spring.

Today's game was expected to give a line on the comparative strength of De Pauw and Rose Poly even though the Rose Teachers games was at the opening of the season.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush the Kidneys at once when Back-ache or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

WOMAN REFUSES OPERATION

Tells How She Was Saved by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

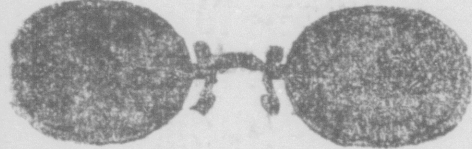

Louisville, Ky.—"I think if moresuffering women would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound they would enjoy better health. I suffered from a female trouble, and the doctors decided I had a tumorous growth and would have to be operated upon, but I refused as I do not believe in operations. I had fainting spells, bloated, and could hardly stand the pain in my left side. My husband insisted that I try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am so thankful I did, for I am now a well woman. I sleep better, do all my housework and take long walks. I never fail to praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for my good health."—Mrs. J. M. RESCH, 1900 West Broadway, Louisville, Ky. I

Since we guarantee that all testimonials which we publish are genuine, is it not fair to suppose that if Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has the virtue to help these women it will help any other woman who is suffering in a like manner?

If you are ill do not drag along until an operation is necessary, but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

WHEAT, OATS, HAY SET NEW RECORD

Estimate of Department of Agriculture For October 1 Shows Corn Near the High Mark.

BIG INCREASES ARE NOTED

September Proves Ideal For all of These Crops, Improving Prospects Immensely.

The estimates of the Department of Agriculture for October 1 show record crops of wheat, oats, barley and hay, and a corn crop closely approaching the record. The returns to that Department indicate a production of approximately three billion bushels of corn, one and a half billion bushels of oats, one billion bushels of wheat, almost a quarter billion bushels of barley, and a hundred million tons of hay, if the twenty million estimated tons of wild hay, a crop not heretofore reported upon, be included.

According to the reports received by the Department, prospects improved during September for all these crops. The conditions during the month were generally favorable to the maturity of growing crops, to harvesting and to fall plowing. The proportion of warm and sunny days was higher than in prior months, though there were rather general storms toward its close. The moisture for the month was normal or below, except in portions of the north central States, particularly the northern tier. The droughty conditions in some Gulf and Western States were relieved by late rains in most States affected. Frost did little damage, except in portions of the extreme northern states.

Special Crops.

Corn gained materially during the month, increasing the estimates of production 41,000,000 bushels, to a total of 3,026,159,000 bushels, within a few per cent of the record crop of 1912. Last year's crop and the average for the previous five years have been about 2,700,000,000. Corn matured rapidly during the fortnight of warm and sunny weather in September, but there was still much immature corn in the northern portions of the main corn belt of the Central States that on October 1 required two and in some cases three weeks of freedom from severe frosts to assure practically complete maturity. The average date of killing frosts in the sections in question is usually by October 1. At that date comparatively little frost damage was reported except in Minnesota and the Dakotas and in the northern portions of Michigan, Wisconsin and Iowa. In the main corn belt the upland corn generally shows exceptionally heavy growth and yield, but much damage and loss to corn in the lowlands are reported. Much corn was thrown down in the fields by the severe storms of August and September. The crop in the Atlantic Coast States gained during September, except in Pennsylvania, Delaware, and Maryland. It lost slightly in the Southern States east of the Mississippi River, but gained correspondingly west of the river.

The promised production of spring wheat increased during September 22,000,000 bushels in the Dakotas, slightly in Minnesota, and declined slightly in the western States. The total increase of about 23,000,000 bushels is sufficient to raise the estimate for total production of all wheat to over 1,000,000,000 bushels, the record for the United States. The prior record was established by the crop of 891,000,000 bushels last year, the average for recent years being in the neighborhood of 700,000,000 bushels.

The quality of spring wheat is reported as 90.7 per cent against an average of 87.6 per cent, whereas winter wheat quality was reported in August as 4.5 per cent below the average. Spring wheat is generally heavy, particularly in Minnesota and the Dakotas, even where it was frosted, but in most States it is off color and somewhat high in starch and low in gluten content. The quality is fine to good in most of the Western States except Colorado, the grain being very light and poor in the latter State.

The reports on oats indicate that yields are large practically everywhere. The estimate is 110,000,000 bushels greater than indicated on September 1. Yields of 75 to 100 bushels, and even over, are not infrequent in the reports from the central West, particularly in Illinois and Iowa. The estimate shows the record crop of 1,517,418,000 bushels, and the record yield per acre of 37.8 bushels for the United States, since the Government Crop Service was established in 1866. The crop last year was 1,141,060,000 bushels, and the average for the years 1909-1913 was 1,131,000,000 bushels. Though generally plump and heavy the marketing quality of the berry is reported as having been seriously lowered over much of the country by the excessive rains during and subsequent to harvest, this being particularly true in the heavy producing sections of the north central States. The quality in the Eastern States is generally good or fair. In the South and West the quality varies greatly from extra high to poor.

Potatoes continued during September the serious decline begun in August, damage being generally reported from all of the more important producing States. Frost west of the Mississippi and blight east of the river covered the important potato States within a few days during the latter part of August, and have been followed throughout September by serious rotting both in the ground and of the harvested crop. Potatoes for home use are being shipped into heavy potato-producing territory in eastern and southern Michigan. The late crop suffered most; in States where an early crop is produced it was generally good. The Colorado crop is reported as being the best in years, though some western states report deterioration. The yield forecast October 1, 368,151,000 bushels, is still slightly above the five-year average though 64,000,000 bushels less than the favorable promise on August 1, and 38,000,000 bushels less than last year. The crop may be further reduced through loss in storage, as the keeping quality of the bulk of the crop threatens to be poor.

Lucas was sentenced to ninety days and the other two men to sixty days service on the state penal farm. Lucas had been out on suspended sentence during the last few months, but when he broke his parole the court revoked the suspension and sent him to the penal farm. The other two men were sentenced to the state institution Thursday, on plea of guilty to assault and battery, as the result of a recent shooting and cutting scrape in Raysville.

Storm Buggies that Will Keep You Warm, Look Nice and Wear Well. That's the Kind.

Everybody wants a nice storm buggy and I have one for everybody. Some of my competitors are going to quit selling buggies, or at least they advertise they are, and I am going to take their word for it, and just between ourselves, I have been looking for it for sometime, and I have reason for looking for it. Every year I sell more buggies than I did the year before and there is not much room left for competition. You naturally ask the question "How do you increase your buggy business all the time?" and the answer is that I give more buggy value for the money than anyone else, treat everybody alike and treat them right. I can prove I give more value for the money than my competitors as I am handling a storm buggy this winter, formally sold by one of my competitors, and I am selling it for $10.00 less than it ever sold for before, remember the same buggy for $10.00 less. Maybe you bought one last year and paid the extra $10.00. If you did, remember when you need a buggy look around. It has saved lots of vehicle buyers money to buy them of me, and I want you for a customer. The only way you can sell things right, is to buy them right, and not throwing any bouquets at myself, I sure buy right and I want to give you the advantage of good buying. Good buying, and a large volume of business make it possible for me to sell you a buggy from $10.00 to $15.00 cheaper than any one else. It is a simple proposition to figure out how it is done, and when you get ready to buy a buggy, buy where the majority buy, and save.

LAW CRIPPLED BY BAD BLUNDER

Clause Forbidding Customs Opposed by Labor Organizations is Inoperative.

CENTER OF BITTER FIGHT

Proves Sham Battle Because Clause Was Omitted in Act Authorizing Building.

Washington, D. C. Oct. 18.—A blunder by Democratic Congress has derided by the Democratic Congress has crippled one of its most important labor laws.

The last Congress passed a provision intended to prohibit the use in government plants under the War Department of certain customs opposed by labor organizations. That provision is practically inoperative today. A vital link in the chain of legislation was omitted.

The labor provision referred to was the center of one of the bitterest fights of the session. It was intended to prevent the use of army appropriations for "making time study of employees or to pay any premium, bonus or cash reward to any employee in addition to his regular wages," and was enacted as an amendment to the army appropriation bill.

The struggle over this amendment all but caused the failure of the army bill. First adopted by the House, it was rejected by the Senate after a long drawn out controversy. When the bill went back to the House, they refused to ratify the Senate's action.

The measure then went to a conference committee of the two branches. They tried in vain to harmonize the differences, with the labor amendment always the principal bone of contention. Scores of other disagreements were disposed of, but the Senate continued to oppose the labor clause and the House to support it. Three times conference committee reports were rejected because of the labor regulation alone.

Not until senators realized they must vote for it or defeat the entire appropriation did they give up. The passage of the army bill containing the labor regulation speedily followed.

On the same day Congress passed an act authorizing the War Department to expend more than six million dollars for fortifications and other defenses. To make the labor clause effective, it was as essential to the fortifications bill as to the army bill.

There is no one line or word of the labor regulation in the Fortifications act. It was not proposed as a part of this law in either House or Senate, although to include it in the army act and not in the fortifications law was a mere farce. The days and weeks of fierce conflict that had worn the strength and tempers of the contestants to shreds proved to be a sham battle.

This is not an isolated blunder. It is but one of hundreds that have been woven into the entire fabric of Democratic legislation, another evidence of Democratic incompetency and inefficiency.

DESCENDANT OF POCAHONTAS

Announcement of Engagement Presages Greatest Social Season in Washington For Years (By United Press.)

Washington, Oct. 18.—When President Wilson brings his bride to the White House in December, America will have a new "first lady" who until a few weeks ago was known only to a small circle of friends. Today she is the object of interest and admiration throughout the country.

The drama of democracy, (which may raise a farm boy to the Presidency), overnight brought Mrs. Edith Bolling Galt into the limelight. The quiet of the White House sitting-room where she played and sang for the president after his days of harassment in his office, is at an end. From now on she will be always before the public.

This will be a decided change for the Mrs. Wilson-to-be. For many years she has been one of the quietest of the Washingtonians who in the big "Cliffdwellers" houses near Dupont circle. Already her comradeship with the President has given her a large interest in the many problems confronting him; and in the White House, her friends say, she will be above all the aide of the man who must be first in answer to the call of the people.

Mrs. Galt reflects in face and manner the distinguished lineage of her family, one of the foremost in the south, with reason to be proud of an unusual genealogy. For, as most of America knows she is a direct descendant of the Indian Princess Pocahontas, who according to tradition, saved the life of Capt. John Smith and married John Rolfe. Their daughter married John Bolling, forefather of William Holcomb Bolling Mrs. Galt's father.

Edith Bolling was born in Wytheville, Va., rumor says, forty-two years ago. She was reared in a big southern home and surrounded with the cultural influence of books and music. She finished her education at Martha Washington college at Abingdon, Va., and at Powell's college at Richmond, both quiet southern schools where the virtue of domesticity and the value of social graces is emphasized.

Nineteen years ago, on a visit to Washington, she met Normal Galt and later married him. He was the head of a big jewelry store here. Nine years ago he died. Since then Mrs. Galt has been living quietly. She wore mourning until a short time ago.

Mrs. Galt has taken an interest in many philanthropies here. She is a worker for the Children's hospital, has aided in the affairs of St. Thomas' Episcopal church, of which her late husband was a vestryman. Many Sundays recently the President has put aside from his work and waited in the big crested White House limousine near the church to drive her home.

Mrs. Galt is domestic in her tastes. She is a good cook. She is an able business woman. She has not taken any great interest in Washington society, but is known as a charming hostess to a small circle of friends. She is gracious and courteous. Close friends call her "Sunshine" because of her happy disposition.

She is fairly tall, with a graceful figure and dark brown hair. Her eyes are blue gray, but so shadowed by long dark lashes that at first appearance they seem black. Her mouth is expressive and her face exceedingly animated when she talks. Her voice is low.

Mrs. Galt is normal in her tastes. A lover of books and music, she has many broad interests. What she has done has been accomplished so quietly that few people know of it.

Her engagement to the president, friends say makes a real love match. Soon after her introduction to the White House by Miss Margaret Wilson, the president found their tastes much the same. Both liked the outdoors, and together they played golf and tennis and took long walks and drives together. Mrs. Galt was a guest at Harlakenden House, where the President spent his long summer vacation, and where their friendship ripened.

Since their return to Washington, the President has spent many evenings at the Galt home, where she has sung for him the old-fashioned songs he likes best, and talked over with him his unending series of problems. In the library, close to the President's favorite chair, hangs a big silver framed portrait of her.

Big boxes of flowers have been brought to her house daily in the White House car. But lest their secret leak out, the President has been sending them from a downtown florist, rather than from the White House conservatories.

The announcement of the engagement presages the greatest social season in years. Washingtonians declare, though in this they may fail to take into consideration the liking of both for quietude.

NO REASON FOR IT

When Rushville Citizens Show a Way.

There can be no reason why any reader of this who suffers the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the pains and dangers of kidney ills will fail to heed the words of a neighbor who has found relief. Read what a Rushville citizen says:

Mrs. Lizzie Borem 840 West Ninth street, Rushville, says: "About six years ago I began to have trouble with my kidneys. The kidney secretions were very annoying and the trouble kept getting worse. The kidney secretions were very painful in passage and scanty Doctors said it was gravel, but none of them ever did me any good. A short time ago I heard of how someone else was cured by Doan's Kidney Pills, so I got a box at Wolcott's Drug Store. They helped me and I kept on using them. I have taken four boxes so far and the pain has left and I feel a great deal better. I believe that Doan's Kidney Pills will cure me."

RECOGNITION PLAN IS OVERSHADOWED

Probable Fate of General Huerta and Probable Ambassador Discussed at Conference.

Washington, Oct. 18.—Discussion of the probable fate of General Huerta and the probable United States ambassador to Mexico overshadowed the actual recognition plan for Carranza as the Pan-American conference held its final sessions this afternoon.

Henry P. Fletcher of Chambersburg, Pa., was today considered a likely choice for ambassador to Mexico. He is now ambassador to Chili and has been in the diplomatic service since 1902.

The case of Huerta was practically disposed of by reiteration of the government's purpose to hold him until charges made against him in this country are disposed of in court.

ALLEGED VIOLATOR OF MOTOR LAW TRIED

Two Cases Against Owen Sweet
Heard Today But Were Not Completed Late This Afternoon.

DEPENDENT ON OIL LIGHTS

The two cases against Owen Sweet, charged with driving an automobile at night without lights and with failure to obey the law regarding the driving to the right and left, were heard today by Mayor Bebout. The case in which it is charged he operated his machine without lights was tried this morning and the other one this afternoon.

The affidavits against Sweet were filed by Stephen Massey and Everett Massey. They were filed as the result of a collision between Sweet's auto and the Massey rig on the iron bridge east of the city on the night of October 6. It was brought out that Sweet was operating with two oil lights, but the state contended that they did not throw a light 200 feet ahead of the machine as provided by law. The second case was not completed at a late hour. The case was featured by considerable wrangling between George W. Young, attorney for Sweet, and Prosecutor Stevens.

After waking up, the Government Attorney went over what Hirschman missed.

"The government is not against the combination of railroads, steamship lines or other industries if the combinations are formed according to law," was Batt's opening statement.

"COMET DROP" IS NEW THRILLER

"Reckless Beach," Who Will be Here
Next Week, Has Some Fancy
Movement to Execute.

TO APPEAR AT HORSE SHOW

His Style of Aeroplane is Said to be
Fastest as Well as Most Pliable
One Made.

Most everybody hereabouts is familiar with Fire-work displays, aeroplane flights, and the other amusement accompaniments of fairs and celebrations. And while these features will all be seen at Rushville, H. B. Marks, general director of the Horse Show and Fall Festival, here the week of Oct. 25-30, however, says that every entertainment feature engaged where novelty or innovation do not predominate, superior accomplishment will take its place. In other words, every act, deed or feat performed will be of the best, by the best.

"Reckless Beach," the famous "birdman," who by the way is under the personal direction of Mr. Marks, will give exhibitions of high, and fancy, low flying twice daily in his high power tractor "Mercury," patterned after the improved French "Planes," now in use by that nation for scout duty.

This style of aeroplane is said to be the fastest flying machine known as well as the most pliable on account of the rapidity with which it answers the helm. The turns and plunges are made with a speed and facility rarely acquired by aircraft.

Mr. Beach is credited with drawing the largest crowds ever seen at aeroplane exhibitions in this country, since the passing of "Beachey," his closest competitor, and only rival. In addition to high and low flying Mr. Beach will execute the "Dip of Death," Loop-the-Loop, "The Spiral Glide," and the "Comet Drop," dropping like a streak of lightening from a height of fifteen hundred feet with the nose of his machine pointed downward and when about one hundred and fifty feet from the ground he rights his aircraft and sweeps to the ground.

THOUGHT THE CLOCK HAD GONE "CRAZY"

Persons on Street Sunday Were Astonished When Hands Ran
Each Other Around Dial

IT WAS GIVEN GOOD CLEANING

For the first time in eighteen years the court house clock was given a complete cleaning yesterday. Custodian Dickman and Jesse Poe doing the work. Many people who depend on the clock for their time probably became confused as it was necessary to stop the clock shortly before noon and make some adjustments. As a result the clock did not strike at twelve o'clock and was out of the running until two o'clock.

Persons on the down town streets thought the clock was "crazy" as the hand whirled around dial. The clock works were taken apart and given a complete cleaning. Last winter the clock lost time during cold weather and it was believed this was caused because the clock needed cleaning.

Bert Newman is Taken Into Court
But is Sent Back to Jail When
he Refuses to Plead.

CRAIG BOY NOT YET FOUND

Bert Newman admits that he broke into the Dr. Will Smith garage, but says Warnie Craig is equally as guilty. For this reason Newman would not plead guilty in circuit court Saturday afternoon and as a result was sent back to jail to await trial. His bond was placed at $1,000.

When asked by Judge Sparks if he was guilty as charged in the affidavit, Newman replied that Craig was equally as guilty and apparently did not want to go to prison without Craig. The Craig boy was not yet been found. Judge Sparks could get no satisfactory plea from the Newman boy so sent him back to jail.

Newman is charged with burglary in the second degree, which upon conviction means a sentence of from two to fourteen years at the Jeffersonville reformatory.

THREE DIVORCES GRANTED

Besides Jury Trial, Hears Mechanics
Lien And Partition Suit on Saturday

Judge Sparks put in one of the busiest days in recent years in the circuit court Saturday. Besides a jury trial, Judge Sparks granted three divorces; heard a suit to foreclose a mechanics lien; a partition suit and attended to probate business and several minor matters in civil suits.

Divorces were granted to Mrs. Lavanche Coyne from Thomas Coyne; Mrs. Jennie Bigham from Charles Bigham and Alonzo W. Sleeth from Belya Sleeth. Mrs. Coyne was given her maiden name of Lavanche Innis. All of the divorces were to be entered upon payment of the costs.

The court took the case of Pinell-Tompkins Lumber company against Arsula M. Curry and Albert Curry under advisement. The suit is to foreclose a mechanics lien, in which $600 is demanded.

Judge Sparks went to Richmond today where he will act as special judge. As a result there was no court here. Several local attorneys were in Newcastle on the case of Walker against Irvin which started this morning.

CHANGES MIND ABOUT HIS PLEA

John Wainseott, Blind "Bootlegger," is Sentenced to 60 Days in Jail and Fined $50.

PROMISES TO LEAVE CITY

John Wainseott, the blind "bootlegger," arrested last week after he had just arrived from Connersville with a supply of booze, suddenly changed his mind about being guilty, and late Saturday night was taken before Mayor Bebout where he changed his plea. Wainseott received a fine of $50 to which was added sixty days in jail. The fact that he is blind will save him from the sentence.

Upon the promise of Wainseott and his brother that he would leave the city Mayor Bebout decided to suspend the sentence. The mayor believes that the city will be better off without "Blind John" and quickly made his arrangements. Wainseott's brother is the Holy Roller preacher here and as that church has a conference about Oct. 25 he expects to get a different assignment. The preacher promised to take the blind man with him and he will be permitted to stay here until then.

The choir of the First Presbyterian church will meet for rehearsal on Tuesday evening at seven o'clock.

SPRING SHOWERS FALLING

Cracker Barrel Philosopher Revise
Predictions and Declare Winter
Will be Delayed.

With summer temperature prevalent, something akin to spring showers falling at intervals and violets in bloom, visions of delayed summer vacations were the rule.

The "cracker barrel weather philosophers" have been saying that all signs point to an extremely cold winter, but today they were revising their predictions and sending out new bulletins to the effect that it would be a very late winter.

The latest forecasts are based on the fact that "fishing worms are being found very close to the surface of the earth." They say this is a sure sign that winter will be slow in arriving, but it is not criterion that the winter will be moderate.

Persons who were out in quest of hickory nuts and walnuts yesterday report that they saw many bunches of violets peeping up from under clusters of leaves that had been bitten by the heavy frosts of week before last and had fallen to the ground.

Yesterday offered a great variety. Those who went out nutting found spring flowers instead, and then before they reached home in the evening they narrowly escaped drenching in a "spring shower."

The showers fell at intervals during the night and there was a vivid display of lightning and loud claps of thunder. The rain continued throughout today, but the weather prediction for tomorrow is fair.

The temperature today was in striking contrast with that of ten days ago when householders began to lay in their winter supply of coal locate the baseburners in the house and start the furnace. The frost had its effect, however, as is revealed by the falling leaves and the trees that are displaying the beautiful hues of the autumnal season.

MILROY MAN HELD ON BOND OF $1,000

Orville Utsler Charged With Admin-
istering Drug to Florence
McElfresh by Her Husband.

FELONIOUS PURPOSE ALLEGED

Orville Utsler, living near Milroy, was arrested today by Deputy Sheriff Sullivan on a serious charge preferred by Harry E. Dawson of near Glenwood. Utsler is held in jail, being unable to give bond in the sum of $1,000.

The affidavit charges that Utsler feloniously administered a certain drug to Florence McElfresh, a girl fourteen years old, for a criminal purpose. The name of the drug, according to the affidavit, is not known. The McElfresh girl, since the offense is alleged to have been committed, has married Dawson and they are now living together. He filed the affidavit as the husband of the girl. It is understood that she is only fifteen years old at the present time.

Unless Utsler gets bond, he will have to be held in jail until Judge Sparks returns from Richmond.

WALKER DISMISSES THE SECOND SUIT

Case Against Rushville Glove Co.
And A. B. Irvin Was to be
Tried in Newcastle Today

SIMILAR TO EARLIER ONE

A message from Newcastle today stated that the case of A. P. Walker against A. B. Irvin and the Rushville Glove company, which was sent to Henry county on a change of venue, had been dismissed today and the costs taxed against the plaintiff. Walker did not appear at all today.

It was a complaint for conversion. It was said at the court house today that the suit was one in which Walker alleged that he had paid money for stock in the glove company but that the stock had never been issued. It was filed here June, 12, 1915 and a change of venue promptly taken.

The records of the allegations of the suit are not on file here because the case was sent from the county, but it was recalled that the suit was very similar to one filed by Walker against the same defendants August 28, 1914, in which $3,000 damages were demanded. The witnesses were summoned for that case and it was all ready for trial when Walker dismissed it. The costs were taxed against him in that instance.

CUNNING THIEVES STEAL WAR STAMPS

Break Into Internal Revenue Col-
lector's Office in Evansville
Sunday Night

(By United Press.)

Evansville, Ind., Oct. 18.—Cunning burglars stole emergency "war stamps" worth $15,000 from the safe in the office of Deputy Foley, collector of internal revenues, in the federal building last night. The robbery was the first of its kind ever reported here.

A wide cut in the sheet around the combination and a jimmy, a brace nippers and drills left lying on the desk told the story of how the safe was robbed. The steel money safe was not tampered with. The thieves did not take ordinary cigar and beer revenue stamps. They apparently knew the government keeps a record of sale of these stamps and they could not dispose of them. No record is kept on the sale of "war stamps." The thieves took a string off the bundle of ordinary stamps to tie up their bundle but did not break the seal.

Garrying this bulky bundle it was necessary to pass through the lighted downtown streets.

MIND BLANK ON MURDER DETAILS

Porter Charlton Testifies Today in
His Trial For Killing His Wife
in Como, Italy.

CRIME OF 1909 IS RECALLED

Describes Her Furious Jealousy,
Violent Fits of Anger and Frequent Carousals.

(By United Press.)

Como, Italy, Oct. 18.—Trembling and at the point of collapse, Porter Charlton today told the court in his trial for wife murder how he met and married his victim, of their life together and of the events which led up to the killing in the honeymoon villa on Lake Como. The young American told of his discovery that he had slain the woman during an interval when his mind was a blank, of the manner in which he sank the body in Lake Como and finally of his flight.

The woman, Mary Scott Castle, already divorced and considerably older than himself, was married to him in 1909. His love for her, he said, was so intense that it filled his entire life.

Of her furious jealousy and violent fits of anger against him, he spoke at length. He attributed these exhibitions of rage which finally, he said, temporarily unseated his reason to the constant intensity of his wife's passion.

Next he described their trip to Italy together, his wife's alcoholic intemperance, her persistent carousing and her savage abuse of himself. "She covered me with insults," he told the court. "She swore like a woman of the street. I could not help but think that another man awaited her. Something broke in my brain. Stooping, I seized a wooden mallet. What happened next I do not remember."

SMALL COLLECTION.

A total of $4,000 was collected at the county treasurer's office Saturday. The amount was considered very small for this near the time limit for paying the fall installment of taxes. The taxes this year are coming in exceedingly slow and starting today an average of $14,000 a day must be collected if all of the fall installment is paid by November 1.

The case of Thompson F. Thomas against Lafayette Conwell, for money had received, demanding $280, has been received in the local circuit court on a change of venue from Fayette county.

Tailored Suits

This is the month when milady will give much thought to the question of choosing a "tailored suit."

And more than ever will she be interested in the advertising in the Daily Republican.

That advertising becomes to her very important news.

It tells her about colors and cloths and styles—tells her whether skirts are to be wide or narrow—and above all else gives her an idea of prices and values.

When she comes to make her important purchase, the woman who has read the advertising will do better than her sister who did not post herself.

Amusements

The Gem will give a benefit show for the Red Men Athletic club tonight. The first picture on the program is a two reel comedy "Mr. Flirt in Wrong." Harry Gribbon is featured. The other picture is a comedy entitled "His Lucky Vacation." Tomorrow night the fourth episode of "The Broken Coin" will be shown. An explosion of fire and a mine horror, staged in the Colorado mining country by miners who had experienced such a catastrophe in real life, is featured in "The Scarlet Sin," a five reel feature at the Gem Wednesday.

The Princess will show the five reel feature "The Mating" for the program tonight. Bessie Barriscale and Lewis J. Cody are featured. This intensely human play pictures the adventures of Doris Willard, a little country girl, at a select boarding school where she is snubbed because of her dowdy clothes and old-fashioned manners. Happening to see, in a newspaper, a picture of Bullet Dick Ames, the football star, she conceives the plan of writing a letter to herself, signed by Ames, asking her to be his wife. How the plan of the school girls to expose her innocent deception and further humiliate her, was foiled by Dick, is the climax in the strong comedy-drama of college life. A college football game is said to be one of the best scenes in the picture.

A Comparison

Two brothers near the same age once lived in a small country town. The elder of the two was a fascinating, handsome, dashing young fellow popular with the girls and a "hail fellow well met" with the boys. He was regarded as a "rising young man."

The other brother was quiet, diffident, a hard worker, more tolerated than cultivated in social affairs, and with apparently but one thought uppermost in his mind—that of doing his work well and to the satisfaction of his employer.

To-day these brothers are both in a great city. The younger is at the head of an immense manufacturing corporation employing many hundreds of people, while the "dashing and fascinating" brother is but a clerk in his employ, on the payroll because he is his brother's brother.

Is there food for thought in the life work and purposes of these brothers?

We have many young men growing to manhood in this community, and to them the future is in their hands.

Opportunities will be plentiful, but only those who enter upon the careers of life with a will and a determination will rise to the more important spheres of usefulness in the business or professional world.

The best advice to any young man is to earn your pay. When you do that other employers will soon be waiting you at increased pay.

There are many rungs to the ladder of life, but they are easy of access to the young man who starts his career with a determination to earn by his own efforts the approval of his employer.

Who knows but what some young man in our own midst may yet rise to the head of this state or nation? Will it be the dashing, fascinating, hail fellow well met? Or will it be the sturdy young man who resolutely puts his shoulder to the wheel and never leaves it until the last turn has been made?

Time and the youth of this community will tell the story.

Medical Licensing

The responsibility for the licensing of medical practitioners has been left by the national government to the individual states; it is left to the state to establish the only legal barrier possible between the public and the thousands who seek authority to treat human diseases. Some states have provided an efficient guaranty that practitioners given the state's endorsement have secured the essential educational qualifications. In some states, however, the responsibility has been taken up in such a happy-go-lucky manner, and the legislation provided is so contrary to effective legal procedure, that the situation would be laughable, were it not for the serious menace to the public. In some states, laws have been passed, admirable in their composition and excellent in their purpose, only to be invalidated by clauses or by other laws exempting the very persons to whom the law should apply. Invariably, the exemptions are of those unable to comply with the educational requirements of the practice act and against whom the people most need protection—those who have had little or no medical training. The making of such exemptions, either by special clauses in the practice act or by laws providing special boards and lower educational standards, is clearly perverting medical licensure, so that instead of protecting the public against the incompetent, it is providing special privileges for the incompetent, untrained men and women parading as the apostles of some "new and marvelous" form of healing. Legislators have yet to learn says The Journal of the American Medical Association, that the art of healing is not gained by birth or by inspiration, but by a rigid and prolonged course of training in the fundamentals of medicine. The only way to make medical licensure a real protection of the public is to provide one licensing board in each state with ample power to apply one educational standard alike to all practitioners of the healing art.

"As Dead as a Mackerel"

Friends of President Wilson make him appear ridiculous in the eyes of those favoring a protective tariff for the American industries as well as the American laboring man by asserting that the president will stand or fall in the next campaign by his national defense program and that the tariff question will be "as dead as a mackerel." It is presuming a great deal to say that the tariff question will not be a live issue the next campaign when the Democratic administration had made such a signal failure in its finances. The deficit has even become so harrowing to the treasury department that no daily financial statement is given out any more.

It is stated in Washington dispatches that the president will make any concessions deemed "necessary" in a readjustment of the tariff. In other words, the president and his advisors have seen the handwriting before it is too late and propose to increase the tariff with the hopes of staving off almost certain defeat for the party that has made such a mess of running the United States government.

If the next Democratic congress does readjust the tariff so as to make sufficient revenue to operate the government without bond issues and "war taxes," then it will be an admission that the Democratic theory of free trade is wrong. That being the case, the Democratic party may as well give up the ship and let at the helm an administration which believes in a policy that has made the United States what it is—a policy that is the only one which will continue the United States in its high position.

H. G. Selfridge, erstwhile American citizen and now a London merchant, urges the United States to get into the war and help the allies. And the United States should us to "get into the war and help them." And not one of them would stretch a finger to help us when our time comes—not even Selfridge, erstwhile American citizen!

A writer once said that the best way to remember a thing is to write it on a piece of paper, roll up into a ball, and put it in your pocket with your loose change. It will do the rest.

Another New York preacher, a very estimable gentleman, has gone upon the rocks of commercial speculation. Stick to the saving of souls, brothers; it is less hazardous and more productive of lasting results to the human race.

America is asked to prevent the slaying of Armenians in Turkey. And we don't even prevent the slaughter of our own citizens on the Mexican border!

If we made munitions of war as fast as we make automobiles we soon would be able to lick the whole world. But we don't!

The man who does his work well never fears the presence of the boss. It is only the idler who exists in a state of dread.

If you think taxes in this country are high just think of the poor devils in Europe for the next generation to come.

Current Comments

Half Century to Build up.
(Omaha Bee.)

For half a century the Republican party devoted its efforts to the upbuilding of American industry, that the home market might be supplied by home-made goods, and this object was attained. Under the democratic administration the effort has been made to open home market to the foreign manufacturer. No other nation in all the world presents a market to compare to that of the United States. In round numbers, the consumptive demand of our own people amounts to the stupendous figure of thirty-eight billions of dollars annually. It costs us $120,000,000 a day to live on the American standard. The export business of the United States for the last fiscal year was but $2,700,000,000, or less than one-twelfth the sum of the home trade. Of the imports that entered United States ports in July, 1915, 69.4 per cent came in duty free.

Do we want to jeopardize our home market to create a commerce with foreign nations? Is not the Republican policy of protection for our workers to be preferred to the Democratic policy of free trade?

that will first of all reduce wages because it will reduce the ability of the employer to pay wages?

THE FREE SOIL PARTY

The Texas question and the acquisition of the vast Western territory growing out of the war with Mexico made the question of slavery extension a direct political issue. When both the Whig and Democratic parties refused to indorse the Wilmot proviso, making the new territories free, the "Conscience" Whigs and some free Democrats united in 1848 to form the national Free Soil Party. In Indiana the Free Soilers who had been active as the Liberty Party organized and held state conventions from 1845 until its absorption by the Republican party. They did not attain any great strength in Indiana from the fact that so many advocates of free territory persisted in remaining in the Whig party.

KNIGHTSTOWN BAND TO PLAY

An automobile delegation of boosters was here today advertising Manilla's first horse show, which will be held Wednesday. There were ten automobiles in the delegation and the Manilla people carried tin horns which they blew lustily to let Rushville people know there was something going to happen at Manilla. The machines were decorated with pennants and streamers advertising the show.

Lon H. Mull is president of the organization, Samuel Phares is secretary and Frank W. Cotton treasurer. The marshalls for the day are Ova Casady, Ralph Gosnell and Herbert Gunning. Cash prizes ranging from two to ten dollars will be awarded. Music will be furnished by the band from the Sailors and Soldiers' Orphans' home south of Knightstown.

FLORENCE

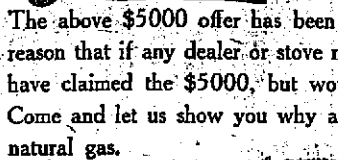

The only absolute Smoke Consuming Stove on Earth. No Smoke, no Soot, no Dirt, no Clinkers-everything is consumed

Beware of imitations and the unscrupulous who claim to have a stove like or just as good as the Florence. Do not be deceived by such false claims and find it out when too late. A Florence will hold fire longer than any other stove manufactured. Examine the Florence carefully before you buy.

I will give $5000 to any stove manufacturer or dealer who will produce a soft coal stove outside the construction of the Florence that will burn all the ingredients of soft coal absolutely or will heat the same amount of space with the same amount of fuel as the Florence.

Signed

J. B. HOWARD.

The above $5000 offer has been made for the past twelve years, every place where the FLORENCE has been exhibited. It stands to reason that if any dealer or stove manufacturer could produce a stove that would do the work that the Florence will do they would not only have claimed the $5000, but would have gotten the benefit of letting the people know what a great stove they have. Come and let us show you why and how the FLORENCE burns the smoke and gases that enables you to get steady heat as if you used natural gas.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, it has a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh of the Eustachian Tube, but as this cannot be cured by local applications, it is necessary to use a remedy that will reach the seat of the disease. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by local applications. Send for circulars free.

Pyorrhea—the disease nearly everybody has

No matter how sound your teeth may seem to be, no matter how you may scoff at the idea of your having this disease, it is a positive fact that the germ which causes it is working now in your teeth.

The appalling discovery of this fact—that the germ which inhabits every human mouth—was made over a year ago. Since then dentists have been urging everyone to take special precautions in their daily toilet to prevent this disease from developing in its acute form of bleeding gums, tenderness in chewing and loose teeth.

To meet the need for such a daily treatment and to enable everyone to take the necessary precautions against this disease, a prominent dentist has put his own prescription before the public in the convenient form of Senreco Tooth Paste.

Senreco contains the best corrective and preventive for pyorrhea known to dental science. Used daily it will successfully protect your teeth from this disease. Senreco also contains the best harmless agent for keeping the teeth clean and white. It has a refreshing flavor and leaves a wholesomely clean, cool and pleasant taste in the mouth.

Start the Senreco treatment tonight—full details in the folder wrapped around every tube. Symptoms described. A 2½ oz. tube is sufficient for six or eight weeks of the pyorrhea treatment. SPENDS LARGE SUM FOR GOLF

Conservative Estimate is $120,000 That Indianapolis Dishes Out Annually For This Game

BECOMING VERY POPULAR

Some Predict That It Will Take Place of Baseball as National Game Some Figures

By DAN L. BEEBE
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 18.—Indianapolis spends approximately $120,000 a year on golf and that figure is conservative.

Nearly one million dollars worth of real estate in and about Indianapolis is devoted to golf. A conservative estimate placed it at $989,000. The city of Indianapolis, as a corporation, has approximately $909,000 in golf. It sounds annual, including interest on real estate at 6 per cent, about $63,423 that its golfers may whack the gutta percha ball on public courses. The golfers returned to the city in 1914 $3,481.75 in dues and locker fees.

The season about to close has been the most enthusiastic ever experienced by Indianapolis, and there are many in this city—as elsewhere, who predict that golf will supplant baseball as the national game. In that event, Indianapolis is prepared for the future, and will be able to accommodate its golfers for years to come with its present golf facilities somewhat amplified.

At present about 1,370 men and women play more or less regularly in Indianapolis. Of these about 870 play on the three city courses. The best figures obtainable show that the city of Indianapolis pays out about $72 annually for each of the golfers playing on the city courses.

In fairness to the management of the three city golf courses it must be explained here that this average per player would be considerably reduced if the interest on the land composing the Highland course to that club at a low figure, but since the Highland players are not playing on a public course, the 200 players there can not be added in to reduce the cost per player. The rent paid by Highland is subtracted however, from the total interest paid by the city on real estate for golf purposes.

All figures appearing in the article and those used as a basis for estimates have been passed on by a golfer whose position as a club official insures his ability to judge them properly. Estimates on real estate were obtained from real estate dealers, and then to insure conservatism, thousands of dollars were lopped off.

In this connection it is interesting to recall that certain Indianapolis writers have repeatedly protested that all city courses should be absolutely free to the public. Their idea was that if a course is owned by the city it should be open to the rich and poor alike. They say that the $8 fee at Riverside and the $5 fee at Irvington work an injustice on certain poorer people who might play golf if the fees were not there.

Those taking the other side of the argument reply that if the city is paying in the neighborhood of $70 annually for each man who plays golf, it is only fair that these individuals should repay a fee in order that the total cost shall not be paid by tax payers who will never do more than look at a golf course.

Without taking sides, it is proper to call attention to the approximate figures: Indianapolis spends annually $63,423 for about 870 players. They return $3,481. The rest is paid by the park board from funds raised through general taxation. Of the $3,481, only about $2,300 results from the much discussed dues. Or, in the other figures the city pays out about $70 per golfer and the golfer returns $8 if he plays at Riverside and $5 if he plays at Irvington. The individual golfer in Indianapolis spends a goodly sum during a season for golf transportation to and from the courses, for clothing, and aside from his dues probably pays $50 a year in dues to his club.

average average for all golfers, he said.

One professional on a local course said his average monthly sale on balls for seven months probably amounted to $500 and that golfers on his course probably spent in a season $2,500 for clubs, caddies and etc.

Figures cannot deal with such intangible things as health and joy resulting from golf, nor with the fact that Indianapolis probably received valuable advertising from its golf courses. It is often said that in the Riverside 18-hole course, Indianapolis has one that cannot be duplicated among public courses in this section of the country.

GREENFIELD WINS FROM RUSHVILLE

Lipals Considered Lucky to Hold Them to 20 to 0 Score—Shows Flashy Team Work.

SUCCESSFUL WITH PASSES

Greenfield team defeated Rushville yesterday 20 to 0 in a hotly contested game, that was considerably closer than the score indicates. The Greenfield team put up a scrappy game and showed the result of several weeks' training. The Rushville team was considered lucky to hold them as well as they did.

The visitors found the Rushville line rather easy and when gains failed through the line they worked a forward pass to good advantage. Two of their three touchdowns were the result of forward passes. Greenfield scored three touchdowns and one safety, but failed to kick goal on any of the touchdowns. The Rushville team was strengthened by the addition of Smith, Harding and Winters of Shelbyville. The score by quarters follows:

Greenfield 6-0-8-6—20

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Finish the Kidneys at once when Back aches or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly, can make a mistake by finishing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of stinging, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

WOMAN REFUSES OPERATION

Tells How She Was Saved by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Louisville, Ky.—“I think if more suffering women would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound they would enjoy better health. I had fainting spells, bloated, and could hardly stand the pain in my left side. My husband insisted that I try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am so thankful I did, for I am now a well woman. I sleep better, do all my housework and take long walks. I never fail to praise Lydia E. Since we guarantee that all testimonials which we publish are genuine, it is not fair to suppose that if Lydia E. WHEAT, OATS, HAY SET NEW RECORD

Estimate of Department of Agriculture For October 1 Shows Corn Near the High Mark.

BIG INCREASES ARE NOTED

September Proves Ideal For all of These Crops, Improving Prospects Immensely.

The estimates of the Department of Agriculture for October 1 show record crops of wheat, oats, barley and hay, and a corn crop closely approaching the record. The returns to that Department indicate a production of approximately three billion bushels of corn, one and a half billion bushels of oats, one billion bushels of wheat, almost a quarter billion bushels of barley, and a hundred million tons of hay, if the twenty million estimated tons of wild hay, a crop not heretofore reported upon, be included.

According to the reports received by the Department, prospects improved during September for all these crops. The conditions during the month were generally favorable to the maturity of growing crops, to harvesting and to fall plowing. The proportion of warm and sunny days was higher than in prior months, though there were rather general storms toward its close. The moisture for the month was normal or below, except in portions of the north central States, particularly the northern tier. The droughty conditions in some Gulf and Western States were relieved by late rains in most States affected. Frost did little damage, except in portions of the extreme northern states.

Special Crops.

Corn gained materially during the month, increasing the estimates of production 41,000,000 bushels, to a total of 3,026,159,000 bushels, within a few per cent of the record crop of 1912. Last year's crop and the average for the previous five years have been about 2,700,000,000. Corn matured rapidly during the fortnight of warm and sunny weather in September, but there was still much immature corn in the northern portions of the main corn belt of the Central States that on October 1 required two and in some cases three weeks of freedom from severe frosts to assure practically complete maturity. The average date of killing frosts in the sections in question is usually by October 1. At that date comparatively little frost damage was reported except in Minnesota and the Dakotas and in the northern portions of Michigan, Wisconsin and Iowa. In the main corn belt the upland corn generally shows exceptionally heavy growth and yield, but much damage and loss to corn in the lowlands are reported. Much corn was thrown down in the fields by the severe storms of August and September. The crop in the Atlantic Coast States gained during September, except in Pennsylvania, Delaware, and Maryland. It lost slightly in the Southern States east of the Mississippi River, but gained correspondingly west of the river.

The promised production of spring wheat increased during September 22,000,000 bushels in the Dakotas, slightly in Minnesota, and declined slightly in the western States. The total increase of about 23,000,000 bushels is sufficient to raise the estimate for total production of all wheat to over 1,000,000,000 bushels, the record for the United States. The prior record was established by the crop of 891,000,000 bushels last year, the average for recent years being in the neighborhood of 700,000,000 bushels.

The quality of spring wheat is reported as 90.7 per cent against an average of 87.6 per cent, whereas winter wheat quality was reported in August as 4.5 per cent below the average. Spring wheat is generally heavy, particularly in Minnesota and the Dakotas, even where it was frosted, but in most States it is off color and somewhat high in starch and low in gluten content. The quality is fine to good in most of the Western States except Colorado, the grain being very light and poor in the latter State.

The reports on oats indicate that yields are large practically everywhere. The estimate is 110,000,000 bushels greater than indicated on September 1. Yields of 75 to 100 bushels, and even over, are not infrequent in the reports from the central West, particularly in Illinois and Iowa. The estimate shows the record crop of 1,517,418,000 bushels, and the record yield per acre of 37.8 bushels for the United States, since the Government Crop Service was established in 1866. The crop last year was 1,141,060,000 bushels, and the average for the years 1909-1913 was 1,131,000,000 bushels. Though generally plump and heavy the marketing quality of the berry is reported as having been seriously lowered over much of the country by the excessive rains during and subsequent to harvest, this being particularly true in the heavy producing sections of the north central States. The quality in the Eastern States is generally good or fair. In the South and West the quality varies greatly from extra high to poor.

Potatoes continued during September the serious decline begun in August, damage being generally reported from all of the more important producing States. Frost west of the Mississippi and blight east of the river covered the important potato States within a few days during the latter part of August, and have been followed throughout September by serious rotting both in the ground and of the harvested crop. Potatoes for home use are being shipped into heavy potato-producing territory in eastern and southern Michigan. The late crop suffered most; in States where an early crop is produced it was generally good. The Colorado crop is reported as being the best in years, though some western states report deterioration. The yield forecast October 1, 368,151,000 bushels, is still slightly above the five-year average though 64,000,000 bushels less than the favorable promise on August 1, and 38,000,000 bushels less than last year. The crop may be further reduced through loss in storage, as the keeping quality of the bulk of the crop threatens to be poor.

THREE SENT TO PENAL FARM

Exodus of Knightstown Citizens Was Started Saturday.

Sheriff Bouslog Saturday took Russell Loxier, Floyd Skafeffer and Cal Lucas three Henry county men, residents of Knightstown and Raysville, to the state penal farm at Greencastle, says the Newcastle Courier. Lucas was sentenced to ninety days and the other two men to sixty days service on the state penal farm. Lucas had been out on suspended sentence during the last few months, but when he broke his parole the court revoked the suspension and sent him to the penal farm. The other two men were sentenced to the state institution Thursday, on plea of guilty to assault and battery, as the result of a recent shooting and cutting scrape in Raysville.

Storm Buggies that Will Keep You Warm, Look Nice and Wear Well. That's the Kind.
Everybody wants a nice storm buggy and I have one for everybody. Some of my competitors are going to quit selling buggies, or at least they advertise they are, and I am going to take their word for it; and just between ourselves, I have been looking for it for sometime, and I have reason for looking for it. Every year I sell more buggies than I did the year before and there is not much room left for competition. You naturally ask the question "How do you increase your buggy business all the time?" and the answer is that I give more buggy value for the money than anyone else, treat everybody alike and treat them right. I can prove I give more value for the money than my competitors as I am handling a storm buggy this winter, formally sold by one of my competitors, and I am selling it for $10.00 less than it ever sold for before, remember the same buggy for $10.00 less. Maybe you bought one last year and paid the extra $10.00. If you did, remember when you need a buggy look around. It has saved lots of vehicle buyers money to buy them of me, and I want you for a customer. The only way you can sell things right is to buy them right, and not throwing any bouquets at myself; I sure buy right and I want to give you the advantage of good buying. Good buying, and a large volume of business make it possible for me to sell you a buggy from $10.00 to $15.00 cheaper than anyone else. It is a simple proposition to figure out how it is done, and when you get ready to buy a buggy, buy where the majority buy, and save.

LAW CRIPPLED BY BAD BLUNDER

Clause Forbidding Customs Opposed by Labor Organizations Is Inoperative.

CENTER OF BITTER FIGHT

Proves Sham Battle Because Clause Was Omitted in Act Authorizing Building.

Washington, D. C. Oct. 18.—A blunder by Democratic Congress has derided by the Democratic Congress has crippled one of its most important labor laws.

The last Congress passed a provision intended to prohibit the use in government plants under the War Department of certain customs opposed by labor organizations. That provision is practically inoperative today. A vital link in the chain of legislation was omitted.

The labor provision referred to was the center of one of the bitterest fights of the session. It was intended to prevent the use of army appropriations for "making time study of employees or to pay any premium, bonus or cash reward to any employee in addition to his regular wages," and was enacted as an amendment to the army appropriation bill.

The struggle over this amendment all but caused the failure of the army bill. First adopted by the House, it was rejected by the Senate after a long drawn out controversy. When the bill went back to the House, they refused to ratify the Senate's action.

The measure then went to a conference committee of the two branches. They tried in vain to harmonize the differences, with the labor amendment always the principal bone of contention. Scores of other disagreements were disposed of, but the Senate continued to oppose the labor clause and the House to support it. Three times conference committee reports were rejected because of the labor regulation alone.

Not until senators realized they must vote for it or defeat the entire appropriation did they give up. The passage of the army bill containing the labor regulation speedily followed.

On the same day Congress passed an act authorizing the War Department to expend more than six million dollars for fortifications and other defenses. To make the labor clause effective, it was as essential to the fortifications bill as to the army bill.

There is no one line or word of the labor regulation in the Fortifications act. It was not proposed as a part of this law in either House or Senate, although to include it in the army act and not in the fortifications law was a mere farce. The days and weeks of fierce conflict that had worn the strength and tempers of the contestants to shreds proved to be a sham battle.

This is not an isolated blunder. It is but one of hundreds that have been woven into the entire fabric of Democratic legislation, another evidence of Democratic incompetency and inefficiency.

WAS KNOWN TO SMALL CIRCLE

But Now Mrs. Edith Galt, Who is to be "First Lady" is Object of Interest And Admiration

DESCENDANT OF POCAHONTAS

Announcement of Engagement Presages Greatest Social Season in Washington For Years (By United Press.)

Washington, Oct. 18.—When President Wilson brings his bride to the White House in December, America will have a new "first lady" who until a few weeks ago was known only to a small circle of friends. Today she is the object of interest and admiration throughout the country.

The drama of democracy, (which may raise a farm boy to the Presidency), overnight brought Mrs. Edith Bolling Galt into the limelight. The quiet of the dim sitting-room where she played and sang for the president after his days of harrassment in his office, is at an end. From now on she will be always before the public.

This will be a decided change for the Mrs. Wilson-to-be. For many years she has been one of the quietest of the Washingtonians who in the big "cliffdweller" houses near Dupont circle. Already her comradeship with the President has given her a large interest in the many problems confronting him; and in the White House, her friends say, she will be above all the aide of the man who must be first in answer to the call of the people.

Mrs. Galt reflects in face and manner the distinguished lineage of her family, one of the foremost in the south, with reason to be proud of an unusual genealogy. For as most of America knows she is a direct descendant of the Indian Princess Pocahontas, who according to tradition, saved the life of Capt. John Smith and married John Rolfe. Their daughter married John Bolling, forefather of William Holcomb Bolling Mrs. Galt's father.

Edith Bolling was born in Wytheville, Va., rumor says, forty-two years ago. She was reared in a big southern home and surrounded with the cultural influence of books and music. She finished her education at Martha Washington college at Abingdon, Va., and at Powell's college at Richmond, both quiet southern schools where the virtue of domesticity and the value of social graces is emphasized.

Nineteen years ago, on a visit to Washington, she met Normal Galt and later married him. He was the head of a big jewelry store here. Nine years ago he died. Since then Mrs. Galt has been living quietly. She wore mourning until a short time ago.

Mrs. Galt has taken an interest in many philanthropies here. She is a worker for the Children's hospital, has aided in the affairs of St. Thomas' Episcopal church, of which her late husband was a vestryman. Many Sundays recently the President has put aside from his work and waited in the big, crested White House limousine near the church to drive her home.

Mrs. Galt is domestic in her tastes. She is a good cook. She is an able business woman. She has not taken any great interest in Washington society, but is known as a charming hostess to a small circle of friends. She is gracious and courteous. Close friends call her "Sunshine" because of her happy disposition.

She is fairly tall, with a graceful figure and dark, brown hair. Her eyes are blue gray, but so shadowed by long dark lashes that at first appearance they seem black. Her mouth is expressive and her face exceedingly animated when she talks. Her voice is low.

Mrs. Galt is normal in her tastes. A lover of books and music, she has many broad interests. What she has done has been accomplished so quietly that few people know of it. Her engagement to the president, friends say, makes a real love match.

White House by Miss Margaret Wilson. The president found their tastes much the same. Both liked the outdoors, and together they played golf and tennis and took long walks and drives together. Mrs. Galt was a guest at Harlakenden House, where the President spent his long summer vacation, and where their friendship ripened.

Since their return to Washington the President has spent many evenings at the Galt home, where she has sung for him the old-fashioned songs he likes best, and talked over with him his mending series of problems. In the library, close to the President's favorite chair, hangs a big silver framed portrait of her.

Big boxes of flowers have been brought to her house daily in the White House car. But lest their secret leak out, the President has been sending them from a downtown florist, rather than from the White House conservatories.

The announcement of the engagement presages the greatest social season in years. Washingtonians declare, though in this they may fail to take into consideration the liking of both for quietude.

NO REASON FOR IT

When Rushville Citizens Show a Way.

There can be no reason why any reader of this who suffers the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the pains and dangers of kidney ills will fail to heed the words of a neighbor who has found relief. Read what a Rushville citizen says:

Mrs. Lizzie Borem 840 West Ninth street, Rushville, says: "About six years ago I began to have trouble with my kidneys. The kidney secretions were very annoying and the trouble kept getting worse. The kidney secretions were very painful in passage and scanty. Doctors said it was gravel, but none of them ever did me any good. A short time ago I heard of how someone else was cured by Doan's Kidney Pills, so I got a box at Wolcott's Drug Store. They helped me and I kept on using them. I have taken four boxes so far and the pain has left and I feel a great deal better. I believe that Doan's Kidney Pills will cure me."

RECOGNITION PLAN IS OVERSHADOWED

Probable Fate of General Huerta and Probable Ambassador Discussed at Conference.

Washington, Oct. 18.—Discussion of the probable fate of General Huerta and the probable United States ambassador to Mexico overshadowed the actual recognition plan for Carranza as the Pan-American conference held its final sessions this afternoon.

Henry P. Fletcher of Chambersburg, Pa., was today considered a likely choice for ambassador to Mexico. He is now ambassador to Chile and has been in the diplomatic service since 1902.

The case of Huerta was practically disposed of by reiteration of the government's purpose to hold him until charges made against him in this country are disposed of in court.

Two Cases Against Owen Sweet Heard Today But Were Not Completed Late This Afternoon.

DEPENDENT ON OIL LIGHTS

The two cases against Owen Sweet, charged with driving an automobile at night without lights and with failure to obey the law regarding the driving to the right and left, were heard today by Mayor Bebout. The case in which it is charged he operated his machine without lights was tried this morning and the other one this afternoon.

The affidavits against Sweet were filed by Stephen Massey and Everett Massey. They were filed as the result of a collision between Sweet's auto and the Massey rig on the iron bridge east of the city on the night of October 6. It was brought out that Sweet was operating with two oil lights, but the state contended that they did not throw a light 200 feet ahead of the machine as provided by law. The second case was not completed at a late hour. The case was featured by considerable wrangling between George W. Young, attorney for Sweet, and Prosecutor Stevens.

ONE JUROR GOES TO SLEEP

New Haven Directors' Case Does Not Interest Him.

(By United Press.)

New York, October 18.—With the New Haven directors' trial a few days old, Steven D. Hirschman, foreman of the jury slept for four minutes while Government Attorney Batts was outlining the details involved in the Metropolitan Steamship company deal. After waking up, the Government Attorney went over what Hirschman missed.

"The government is not against the combination of railroads, steamship lines or other industries if the combinations are formed according to law," was Batt's opening statement.
